PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1888.

PRICE ONE CENT.

ALL THE LATEST NEWS

WARREN STEPS OUT

His Backer Fails to Cover the 'Spider's " Money.

Tommy Leaves 'Frisco for Parts Known Only to Himself.

Kilrain May Do Something with Sullivan's Challenge To-Morrow.

Boston, Dec. 12.-The fight between Ike Weir, the Belfast Spider, and Tommy Warren, of Minneapolis, which was to take place at the rooms of the California Athletic Club

It was no fault of the "Insect," but Warren has shown the white feather and skipped for parts unknown.

Not long ago President L. R. Fulda, of the California Athletic Club, telegraphed Capt. A. W. Cooke, of the Police News, that the club would give a $1,750 purse-$250 to loser for Warren and Weir to fight in February.

The "Spider" declined the Club's proposition, as he claimed that the purse was too small to go to 'Frisco and fight. After some deliberation the Club consented to increase the size of the purse, and sent the following telegram to Capt. Cooke, of the Police News:

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7, 1888.

4. W. Cooke, Editor Police News:
(2.1b) will give $2,000 purse, $1,750 to winner, $250 to loser. Warren insists on a $500 forfeit being posted immediately for an outside wager of $1,500. He also insists that Weir shall not weigh more than 118 pounds in costume entering the ring. The fight cannot occur before the last of February.

L. R. Fulda.

President-California Athletic Club.

On receipt of the above Weir and his

On receipt of the above Weir and his backer, Ed J. McAvoy, decided to proceed to San Francisco at once. Capt. Cooke tele-graphed President Fulda as follows on Monday, Dec. 10

E. R. Fulda, President Cultivaria Athletic Otab:

The "Spider" and his backer, Edward F. McAvoy, will leave Boston Sunday night, Dec. 16.
They accept your offer, and will complete arrangements on their arrival in your city. Mr. Patrick F. Sheedy, now on the way to your city, can speak for McAvoy, if you want to communicate with a representative of the Spider before McAvoy's arrival. Warren's money will be covered.

Mr. McAvoy was so convened that Warren.

Mr. McAvoy was so convinced that Warren did really intend to meet Weir that he purchased tickets for himself, Weir and Dan Murphy for San Francisco, and McAvoy also had made arrangements to leave his hotel business, preparatory to an absence from the city of two months.

had made arrangements to leave his hotel business, preparatory to an absence from the city of two months.

Jim Keenan, who took the Spider to Minneapolis when he boxed Warren there, prophesied better than he knew it appears, when he said a day or two ago: "If Warren knew that Weir was coming, you couldn't keep him in the ring. That demand of his for a $1,500 outside wager, $500 forfeit up, is a bluff. He outweighed Haylin and whipped him, but he has seen Weir go all over him, with Weir weighing 117½ pounds, and you take my word for it Warren won't fight, and don't you start Weir for San Francisco till you see Warren's $500 up, and have it fixed so that Weir will get the money if Warren weakens."

Weir's first information that his adversary had quit the field without waiting for him even to start was received from The Evening Woned correspondent this afternoon.

President Fulda this morning telegraphed Capt. Cooke as follows:

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 12. A. W. Cooks, Boston, Mass.

Warren's backer has backed out of the $1,500 bet. Warren has left-town without seeing me at all in regard to it.

President California Athletic Club.

AMERICAN LABORERS IN SESSION.

The Right-Hour Law Placed in the Hand of a Committee-Lively Debate.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] St. Louis, Dec. 12. -At to-day's session of the American Federation of Labor, a special committee was appointed to report on the eight-hour law referred to in President Gompers's address. Following this appointment there was a motion made to adjourn, over which a lively debate made to adjourn, over water took place. After a hot discussion a recess was taken until 1 o'clock P. M.

BY HIS MURDERED MOTHER'S SIDE.

Murderer Asbury Hawkins Buried in the Same Grave as His Victim.

Prancis Asbury Hawkins, who was hanged at erhead yesterday for murdering his mother, was buried quietly to-day in the family plot is Oakwood Cemetery, midway between Islip and Bayahore.

Hawkins's murdered mother is buried there and the body of her son was placed by her side. Hev. David McMullen, pastor of the Methodist Church at Islip, officiated.

Waiting for the Redconts.

[BY CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.] LONDON, Dec. 12.—The enemy in front of Snakim are increasing in numbers. It is evident that Osman Digma is near and has sent on reinforcements. The fire from their trenches is growing hotter. The English detachments still on the way are anxiously awaited. No de-pendence can be placed upon the Egyptian troops, and no further sortic will be attempted until the redcoats arrive.

To Teach Englishmen Pipemaking.

[SPECIAL TO THE SYNNING PIPTERDING, Dec. 12,-Thomas Longmore, at on pipe manufacturer of Walsall, England, has hired two Pittsburg tube workers at a salary of £6 per week to accompany him to England and give his employees points on pipemaking Effects of Climate.

We hear a great deal said about the beneficial effect upon invalids of the climate of Colorado and other Western localities, but when a man changes his place of residence in the hope of improving his health without first trying Da. Pience's Golden Missical Discoversy, he makes a great mistake. In nine cases out of ten he might save his time and money. This great remely ower its power over all affections of the throat and lungs, bronchitis, asthma, catarrh and even consumption, which is lung scrofula, to the simple fact that it purifies and enriches the blood and invigorates the debilitated system.

the Plaintiff Had Admitted that His Wife Was Divorced from Him, and That Spoiled His Suit-Mrs. Van Name's Nervousness on the Stand Yesterday and Her Surprise and Triumph This Morn-

All the parties interested in the $25,000 suit of Husband Van Name against Mr. Bristead, for alienation of a wife's affections, were in Supreme Court, this morning, when Judge Lawrence mounted to the bench.

They were all stricken with some shock of surprise, therefore, when the Judge declared the case off. He ruled that as the testimony yesterday showed that Mrs. Van Name had secured a divorce from the plaintiff the suit of her quondam husband could not be submitted to the jury.

Mrs. Van Name and Bristead left the court triumphantly. Mr. Van Name also left, but

The revelations in the case yesterday were slightly exhitarating.

Mr. Van Name, besides declaring that he had always been a nice husband and never called his wife bad names or got drunk, admitted that his wife had secured a divorce from him and said that he had forgiven the indisparations with other man to which the mitted that his wife had secured a divorce from him and said that he had forgiven the indiscretions with other men to which she had confessed.

Richard H. King, who boarded at Cuthbert Manor while the Van Names and Bristead were there, testified that at first he couldn't tell which of the two men was husband to the lady—Mr. Bristead was so devoted to her. He had seen Mr. Bristead go into Mrs. Van Name's room, and had seen Mrs. Van Name go into Mr. Bristead's rooms. The visits were not brief ones, either.

Mr. King's wife testified that she had seen Mr. Bristead and Mrs. Van Name calmly come out of the bath-room together. Mrs. Van Name explained the matter by saying that Mr. Bristead had been washing her hair. Several more witnesses were called, and then the plaintiff's case was rested.

Mrs. Van Name showed some agitation while giving her testimony, and there was an unusual pallor in her cheeks. At times it looked as if she would completely break down.

She avowed that Mr. Van Name had de.

She avowed that Mr. Van Name had deceived her in regard to his income and had never done more than pay her board for her. Mrs. Van Name tearfully declared that she paid for her own clothes with money supplied by her mamma, now deceased. Ehe and Van Name had the kind of a time that the parrot and the cat did. He accused her unjustly of infidality, struck her once and applied vile epithets to her. Once he actually threatened her life.

She stated that on one occasion he confessed to her that he had embezzied money from insurance companies and would be ruined if he could not pay it. He proposed to her that she should get one Houseman, to whom he was in debt, in a compromising situation. Then he would appear, do the outraged husband act and get big money from his dupe. She positively declined to co-operate in this neat little scheme.

She said that her husband went to Koster & Bial's at night. She went with him once, but only once.

When Lawyer Grady asked her about the bathroom episode, she denied it, and said she never mended Mr. Braistead's dilapidated socks, She never went to his room except at her husband's request, who sent her there several times for liquor and cigars, Frequently Braistead was not in the room at all. She avowed that Mr. Van Name had de-

Here Mrs. Van Name showed such symptoms of falling into a faint that at the suggestion of her physician, who was in court, she was allowed to leave the witness-stand, and the case was adjourned a day.

PHIL DALY IS PICKING UP.

Not Quite So Sick as Reported-Meredith's

The pretty sixteen-year-old daughter of Phil Daly received an Evening World reporter at the Strathmore this morning. She said: "Pape is much better and stronger to-day, but there were so many callers to see him that Dr. Smith forbid him receiving any one.

'One morning paper says your father is wrestling with the deadly brain fever," begs n

"One morning paper says your father is wreatling with the deadly brain fever," begs n the reporter.

The maiden placed her hand to her eyes, weary with anxious watching, and replied: "Oh sir, it is not true. Papa had a slight chill through over-exertion Saturday, and fever all day Sunday and Monday, but he was all right again yesterday, sitting up all day. He! about our apartments to-day, and we hope he will be able to go on' in a few days."

"Anoth 'r paper says he may have erysipelas or menn gitis?"

"I hope mot!" exclaimed the young woman in an agonized manner. "Dr. Smith said there was always more or less danger in such a wound as papa's, but that he was not alarmed. He was not here to-day, but sent an assistant 'e see papa. He said papa was much better, and that we need have no fear."

At the office of Dr. Samuel W. Smith the reporter learned that he was not out of town, but was engaged on another case. The story that Mr. Daly was dangerously ill probably grew out of the facethat his physician forbably grew out of the facethat his physician forbably grew in Edward Meredith, cool and indifferent, was in of the face that his physician forbade his attending Court yesterday.

Edward Meredith, cool and indifferent, was in Supreme Court Chambers to-day while his counsel, Lawyer Ambrose Purdy, argued before Judge Andrews to have bail fixed in his case. Meredith was brought from the Tombs hand-cuffed to another man.

Mr. Purdy asked to have bail fixed at a low figure, and Assistant District-Attorney Dawson suggested $10,000 as the right amount. Judge Andrews accordingly fixed it at that.

Mr. Purdy did not know whether he could secure the amount, but Meredith, through Officer Smith, said he could easily get it. The prisoner was then taken back to the Tombs.

A CHANGE FOR ME. GARRETT.

The Millionaire Patient Expected to Leave

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD,] RINGWOOD, N. J., Dec. 12 .- It is thought that Mr. Garrett will be removed from Ringwood some time between the 15th and 20th of this month. It has not yet been given out by the family where Mr. Garrett will spend the Winter, but Mrs. Garrett went to New York yesterday to make arrangements for her husband's removal. Mr. Garrett spent a quiet day and took a short walk this afternoon about the grounds of the Miller mansion.

Accident to the Steamship Glengarry. LONDON, Dec. 12.—It is reported that the steamship Glengarry, from New York for Lon-don, has been in collision with an unknown steamship off Gravesend and has put into port greatly damaged. It is feared that several lives have been lost.

At the office of Henderson Brothers, who are agents in this city for the owners of the Glengarry, it was said that nothing was known beyond the bare news given above.

The Glengarry is an old vessel and was engaged in the carrying trade between Yokohama. New York and London. She arrived here from I okohama on Nov. 11, and left for London Nov. 29.

Young & Smylin's Stick Licorice.

MR. VAN NAME OUT OF COURT. A SAD COURT STENOGRAPHER

JUDGE LAWRENCE SAID HIS CASE COULDN'T ED F. UNDERHILL SUED FOR DIVORCE BY

He Is Surrogate Ransom's Stenographer and a Watering-Place King.-The Cause Alleged by the Wife Is Desertion and to Support-Mr. and Mrs. Underbill Maintain a Professional Reti-

A divorce suit, which, if it comes to trial in court promises to develop very interesting partic ilars, has been commenced by Mrs. Evelyn T Underhill against her husband, Edward F. Underhill, widely known as the Surrogate's stenographer. Mrs. Underhill's complaint is that of desertion and failure to support.

Mr. Underhill, the defendant, has been a court stenographer since 1852. He came here from the West, and soon after securing his position in the Supreme Court took active measures to have the Legislature pass a bill appointing official court stenographers. He has been married twice, the second time to the complainant, who was a stenographer in his employ. He has been successful in his profession, and is said to have accumulated considerable wealth. He has devoted much time during the past few years to establishing a summer resort near Nantucket, which he calls Biasconset. He owns the entire place, and has earned the title of the "King of Susconset."

The "King "is one of those real nice old men, and is about sixty years old. He employs a number of female typewriters and stenographers, who are noted for their fair faces and figures.

When THE EVENING WORLD reporter called at Mr. Underhill's office at 22 Spruce street this morning, three pretty girls looked up at at him. The reporter was slightly embarrassed, but managed to ask whether Mrs. Underhill still had an office in the building. One of the young ladies smiled knowingly, looked at the others and said:

"No, Mrs. Underhill never had an office here." his position in the Supreme Court

"No. Mrs. Underhill never had an office here." But I thought she was also engaged in the typewriting busines?"
"Oh, no: she was only a clerk for her husband, just the same as we are."
"Will she be here to-day?"
Chorus of Typewriters—Oh, no, she never Comes here.

A visit was next made to Mr. Underhill's residence, 203 East Thirteenth street. Mr. Underhill was just leaving for his office.
'Have you filed an answer to your wife's complaint?" saked the reporter.
'I have nothing to say," he brusquely re-

"May I ask who your lawyer is?"
"Find out."
"Where is your wife at present?"
"Find out."

"Find out."

The reporter gave it up and passed on to interview the dusky damsel, who stood guarding the entrance to the fist. She knew nothing. Mrs. Stewart, sister of Mrs. Underderhill, came to the door and told the reporter that they would say nothing whatever about the case. She did say, however, that Mrs. Underhill was still hving with her husband. Before the reporter had time to ask whether it wasn't queer that she was still there, considering the grounds of her complaint, the door was shut.

Lawyer Henry G. Atwater is retained by Mrs. Underhill, but he was as mum as an oyster when the reporter called. He refused absolutely to say anything. It is not known whether Mr. Underhill will answer the complaint or not.

LADIES DEFEATED THE DEMOCRATS.

Over 16,000 of Them Voted on the Sch Question-Hart's Plurality 1,965.

INPECTAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. 1 Mayor vesterday by a majority of 1,965. The entire Republican ticket for school committee was elected through the aid of the omen, who cast 16,000 votes. Not one Cath-

MAYOR HUGH O'BRIEN, OF BOSTON. [Defeated by the Women Workers.] olic was elected on the School Board. Of the members of the School Board whose terms have not yet expired eight are Catholics.

The Mayoralty issue was entirely shadowed by the school question. A long and bitter religious controversy had arisen over the use of Swinton's History in the schools, the Catholics claiming that it misrepresented that Church. Press and pulpit joined in the contro-versy, and the discussion was like a section of the seventeenth century. Both parties declared in their resolutions in favor of unsectarian schools.

in their resolutions in favor of unsectarian schools.

The vote on license was far in excess of the vote last year. The "Yes" vote was 34,000 and the "No" vote 17,000.

Of the Aldermen elected eight are Republicans and four Democrats. The Aldermen-elect are: Jesse Gove, R.; B. F. Stacey, D.; J. A. Mc-Laug' in, D.; W. P. Wilson, R.; C. W. Smith, R.; J. A. Murphy, D.; Samnel Kelly, R.; A. A. Folsom, R.; John C. Short, D.; W. G. Reed, R.; Homer Rogers, R.; Otts Eddy, R.

Mayor O'Brien said last night: "I regret it not so much on my own account, but on account of the Democratic party. Boston is the strong-hold of the party in the State, and defeat in Boston is a set-back which will require time to heal. The men, however, whom Mr. Hart pulled over from the Democratic party, if allowed their way, would ruin any administration."

Two Young Ladies Killed on the Track. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 12.—While walking on the track of the Western North Carolina Railroad, near Alexander, N. C., last evening, two young ladies were instantly killed by an express train. Miss Lewis, aged eighteen, and Miss Bynum, a school teacher, aged twenty. They were caught on a trestic and both horribly mangled.

Grim Determination. We are determined to sell out our Fall and Winter Ready-Made CLOTHING for Men. Boys and Children this manon clean and complete. To do this we have marked a bargain price on every garment in all the departments. In addition we present to every purchaser of $12 worth or more a jewelled escapement, inchelonated watch (stem winder) and chaim. HACKETT, CARLANT & CO., Clothing and Hack, northeast currer Caralist, and Broadway.

THE RIVER HELD HER CLOSE.

A PRETTY YOUNG GIRL'S SUICIDAL LEAF FROM A FERRY-BOAT.

This Is Added to the Ever Increasing Mysteries of the Metropolis-No One Knew the Girl, but All Saw That She Was She Folded Her Hands and Jumped.

To the ever increasing number of mysteries in this great city is added that surrounding the unknown girl who committed suicide last night by jumping from the deck of a North River ferry-boat.

The girl was about eighteen years old, of ather above the medium height, and was clad in a suit of mourning. Her long, shining black hair was braided into a plait and hung down her back. Her eyes were black and she had been crying, as her eyelids were red and tear-stained. She carried a small he Twenty-third street ferry-house of the Eric Railroad, about 7.45 o'clock, where the gateman noticed her nervously pacing the She seemed to be utterly grief. stricken.

When the ferry-boat John King entered the slip and the passengers were discharged, she walked aboard, went to the forward cabin on the ladies' side and took a seat. Before the boat started, however, she retraced her steps and sat down on a bench on the after-deck. The atmosphere was freezing cold and the wind was blowing a hurricane. The young except when she would look around to se whether any one was watching her. The attention of one of the deck-hands and been attracted by her actions, and he had been attracted by her actions, and he kept his eye upon her. She saw him, and huddled herself closer in the corner.

When the boat lauded in Jersey City she got up and walked into the ferry-house. Then she returned to the boat and sat down in the cabin. As soon as the boat was well out of the slip she took up her old seat on the rear deck of the boat and remained there until the boat reached New York.

Then she discuparked and went into the woman kept her head buried in her hands, until the boat reached New York.

Then she disembarked and went into the ferry-house. Her actions there excited considerable comment, but no one thought it his duty to inform any of the ferry officials.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the ferry-boat Jay Gould arrived from Jersey City. A few minutes later the gate was opened and the passengers rushed aboard. Among them was the mysterious girl, and she sat down in a corner of the after cabin.

mysterious girl, and she sat down in a corner of the after cabin.

The boat gradually filled with people who were on their way to their suburban homes, and at 9.30 o'clock it started.

It is the custom of the deck-hands to remain on the rear of the boat until after leaving the slip, and then they go forward, one through the men's cabin and the other through the ladies' cabin.

It was not more than a half minute after the deck-hands had passed through when the young woman stood up, and peering through the glass doors, opened one of them and walked out.

Two young women who had been watch-

Two young women who had been watching the pretty stranger thought she acted mystericusly, and followed her out. As they opened the door they saw the young woman standing on the railing of the boat, with her hands clinching the woodwork covering the deck. She had climbed up a small wooden ladder to the railing.

The girls rushed forward to catch the would-be suicide, but they were too late. Without a word the girl folded her hands, and with her face turned upward she jumped into the river.

The young women screamed and the boat was stopped. The passengers and deckhands looked out on the water in search of the suicide, but the waters had closed over her, shielding her from sight.

After a delay of three minutes the boat continued the contract of the suicide.

After a delay of three minutes the boat continued on its way to Jersey City.
At the time the girl jumped the boat was about opposite Eighteenth or Twentieth DEPEW FOR MINISTER TO ENGLAND. Buffule Men Say He Has Peculiar Qualifi cations for the Place.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] BUFFALO, Dec. 12.-Interviews are published n the News this afternoon with most of the leading men of Buffalo on the subject of Charmsey M. Depew for Minister to England.

Politicians, city officials, Supreme Court Judges, bankers, lawyers, physicians, clergy-

Judges, bankers, lawyers, physicians, clergymen, merchants and others are quoted in favor of Mr. Depew's appointment.

Jas. Mooney, Niagara Park Commissioner and ex-President of the Irish National League, favors the appointment.

Among thers interviewed are Peter Doyle, Rev. Patrick Cronin, editor of the Cathotic Union; Protestant Episcopal Bishop Coxe, County Clerk Orr, Supreme Court Judges Haight and Lewis, Senator John Laughlin, ex-Senators McMillan, Sprague and Williams and John J. Hynes, President of the Y. M. C. A. of New York State.

They all agree that Mr. Depew would make a brilliant Minister, and the Irishmen are particularly pleased, because they believe he would assert his Americanism and not bow down in worship to the British aristocracy. The others say that he is a clean, capital man, with peculiar qualifications for the office.

COURT SUSPENDED TO WATCH THE FIGHT

A Turkey and a Gamecock Afford Sport for Bridgeport's Dispensers of Justice.

[SPECIAL TO THE SVENING WORLD.] BRIDGEFORT, Conn., Dec. 12.—Business was generally suspended yesterday in the new County Court-House on Golden Hill. The august dispensers of justice turned from Blackstone and their briefs to watch a battle between a turkey and a gamecock.

The birds are owned by Dr. Martin, and the Court-House windows overlook Dr. Martin's door yard.

The turkey would approach the cock cantiously sideways and strike quick blows with his wing. The gamecock fought as such birds generally The battle raged from 10 o'clock in the morn-ing until the belligerents went to roost at night-The cock crew and the turkey gobbled, and the judges of the battle declared it a draw. No money changed hands.

AMAZED BY THE POPE'S WORDS.

His Holiness Refuses to Bless Medals for Distribution in Ireland.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE EVENING WORLD.] LONDON, Dec. 11.—Consternation has been caused in Roman Catholic circles by the refusal of the Pope to bless medals and reliquaries sent to Rome by an Irish priest.

The medals were intended for distribution in Irisand.

Ireland.
When they were presented to His Holiness he said, with umphasis: 'I cannot bless them. The people of Ireland are disobelient. They seem to prefer the gospel of Dillon and O'Brien to the gospel of Jesus Christ."

STUCK IN THE MUD.

The Warlike Galena Stops Suddenly on Her Way to Hayti.

She Got About Twenty Feet From Her Dock in the Great Expedition.

And There She Stayed Till the Flowing Tide Came In.

Now She's Gone, and Hayti Should Prepare to Tremble.

At 10.30 this morning the double-starred blue flag, Rear-Admiral Stephen B. Luce's ensign, ran up the proper peak on the U. S. corvette Galena, lying at Cob Dock, at the Brooklyn Navy-Yard.

At the same moment Admiral Luce stepped on board and every officer and sailor dress himself up to his full manly height.

Days of warlike preparation had culminated in complete readiness for warfare. The Galena was under orders and prepared to obey. She was going to offer Hayti the dreadful alternatives of apology or a fight to the finish.

Nobody doubted the result. There was a lion's heart in every man on the Galena, besides the insuirations of a sweetheart whose farewell kisses were yet warm on his cheek. The Yantic was to steam off Haytiward, too, but somehow the drift of attention was towards the Galena, and a proud man indeed was Executive Officer Reeder as he shouled brisk orders to the hustling boys in blue brisk orders to the hustling boys in blue about him.

At exactly 11.30 the lines were cast off, and the Galena parted company with the dock. Warlike emotion shone in every eye on board, while emotion similar and otherwise was distributed in a free and easy way among the countenances of friends and comrates on the dock, who were to be left far from the starn accuracy.

the dock, who were to be left far from the stern scenes of war.

The tug Catalpa came bustlingly up to the side of the sturdy man-of-war, pulling pompously over its share of the glory. For was it not this same Catalpa which was to tow the Galena down to the clear water of the bay? Indeed it was, and the busy little body feit her importance to the full. She gave a quick, strong pull, after being made fast to the corvette, and the latter's stately bow swung out a full twenty feet from the dock.

The voyage to Hayti was begun!

The next moment something stopped, It was the Galena. So had the Catalpa.

The tug was still pulling hard, but its puffing had altered from that of pompons arrogance to that of asthmatic dismay.

The Galena had met a new enemy, and its name was Mud. So was the Galena's, for the time being.

name was Mud. So was the Galena's, for the time being.

Puff! puff! went the tug and the hawsers strained until they seemed likely to break. But the mud held on. It had the stern of the war vessel caught in its tightest grap, and though the Galena's bow swung freely enough the stern remained as fixed and immutable as the famed code of the Medes and Persians.

Persians. Persians.

Here was a spectacle for the marine gods and the little fishes!

A duly equipped and well-ordered terror from the United States Navy hurried to spread consternation and other terrible things among the Haytiaus, who had dared to bite their thumbs at Uncle Sam, was stuck hard and fast on the shoals at Cob Dock, after advancing twenty foet on a seven days.

ter advancing twenty feet on a seven days' The tug Nina came to the rescue with a flourish. She puffed up in anticipated triumph over the discomfited Catalpa. She caught on and pulled her stoutest, but mud still was king and not a budge budged the Jalena.

Officers and sailors and tugs finally got out of wind together, and the attempt to move on of wind together, and the attempt to move on was given up.

Time and tide will wait for no man, but the Galena must wait for the tide.

At 12.05 p. m. there ended Round 1 in the great contest of the Republics—Hayti against the United States—and the Haytians were on top. Mud was their ally.

Carry the news to Legitime, and, meanwhile access the soul. while, excuse this smile.

The Yantic is expected to reach Hayti several days later than the Galena. If the mud holds good the smell of battle is very far off for the Haytian warriors.

THE HAYTIAN HA! HA!

Chivalric Offer of Assistance from Our

Sable Enemies. [NOT A CABLE SPECIAL.] PORT-AU-PRINCE, Dec. 12.—The Haytian

Government learns with regret the distressful circumstance which has befallen the good ship Galena, and respectfully tenders to its sister Republic the use of its own war vessels, if necessary, to pull the United States Navy out of the sou-beg pardon-mud.

Later-Out of the Mud. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] Con Dock, 2,55 P. M .- In the words of the poet, "She starts, she moves," &c. The tugs Catalpa and Nina have pulled the Galena away from the dock and she is safely headed for the big bridge. The Yantic will soon follow. Now let Hayti tremble. BRAKEMAN AND TRAMP KILLED. During a Deadly Struggle They Fall Under the Flying Wheels.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 12 .- John Wharton, a rakeman on the Pennsylvania Railroad, was thrown from the cars last evening at Millham. above Trenton, by a tramp who was being put off for stealing a ride, and both were killed. Two tramps got on board the train at Trenton and were put off. After abusing Wharton and threatening him, they followed the train and again got aboard at Morrisville. After a severe struggle they were once more put off. At Millham they boarded the train again, and this time one of the tramps and Wharton fell between the Brooklyn Police Wires Underground. By nightfall 82,000 feet of the police telegraph wires in Brooklyn will have been buries underground. Frank Mason, the Super-intendent of the Police Telegraph sys-tem, has been superintending the work and is much pleased at the prospect. The lines which will be buried run from Fulton street, along Myrtle avenue to Canton street, and from the Municipal Building, along Fulton to Navy street.

BRENNAN'S WIDOW IN COURT

HANDSOME HARRY QUAILED WHEN HE LOOKED AT HER.

stern-Faced Policemen Fill the Spectator Benches and Gaze with Unfriendly Eye at the Murderer of Their Brother Officer-The Work of Pilling the Jury-Rox

Again the court-room in the brown-stone Court-House, wherein the scene of "Handsome Harry" Carlton's trial for taking the life of Policeman James Brenwas crowded to-day. the third day of the proceedings, and a third gathering of blue-coated, brass-buttoned, grim-visaged policemen occupied benches. It was their "day off," and they came to look upon the murderer of their fellowofficer, and their gaze was not one of fond-

From the contemplation of the cadaverous, cold-livered, hard-faced man whose pisto bullets pierced the heart of the faithful offieer, all eyes turned with another expression to another quarter of the room where sat a female form in widow's weels.

This was the wife of James Brennau, and in her arms she held a babe that prattled and coosed and coquetted with those nearest to her.

and cooed and coquetted with those nearest to her.

Poor Brennau left this helpless widow with three little ones to care for.

The prisoner turned his face away from the woman and babe, made widow and orphan by his hand, but his eye quailed and his expression was not that of assurance, a: it had been on the provious days, while the policemen turned their gaze again upon him, forbiddingly.

The work of selecting a jury for Carlton's trial went on, Col. Fellows and William F. Howe examining the tallsmen. Nine seats had been filled at the adjournment last night, as follows:

as follows:

as follows:

Richard Klenke, manufacturer, 33 Ninth avenue; James H. Fuller, 141 West Sixteenth street; James H. Farley, 516 East Thirteenth street; Emanuel Krause, hosiery, 401 East Fiftieth street; Ferdinand Lemlen, 2392 First avenue; William D. Sims, dry goods, 50 West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street; Alexander G. Fisk, clerk, 28 Nassau street; William Tousey, bookseller, 14 East Forty-sixth street, and William E. Klein, wheel manufacturer, 101 Bowery.

Mr. Howe was careful not to admit in the box any citizen who had read the newspaper box any citizen who had read the newspaper accounts of the Coroner's inquest in Brennan's case, nor those who had read anything of Cariton's record nor those who knew Foliceman Brennan or had any relative on the liceman Brennan or had any relative on the police force.

He saked each juror if he had subscribed to the fund for the widow of the dead policeman, and the result of his care was that nine out of fen jurors were rejected.

Louis Curtis, a carman, living at 24 Jane street, who is 6 feet 4 inches tall, answered every question according to law and seemed to be a model of fairness.

Carlton drew Mr. Howe down and whispered in his car. Then the old pleader sighed and said: "I am instructed to peremptorily challenge this juror," and the big carman was sent away.

carman was sent away.

George W. Olivit, a Washington street fruit dealer, living at 2311 Seventh avenue, was given the tenth seat, Mr. Howe again protesting against his being sworn until the District-Attorney had exhausted his peremptory chal-

MITCHELL SAYS HE'S AN AMERICAN.

He Took Out Papers Five Years Ago and Will Bring His Family Over. Blooming Charley Mitchell has come to town as an advance agent of Jake Kilrain to look up the matter of John L. Sullivan's challenge, Kilrain will arrive to-morrow, when Mitchell thinks something will be done toward arranging a match. stand that he is an American citizen despite his English ways, having taken out his papers here five years ago. He is going to prove his allegifive years ago. He is going to prove his allegiance to the people here by bringing over his family in the Spring.

In the meantime Mitchell is going to make all the money he can, and the matter of pecuniary inducements is all that stands between him and a battle with almost any one.

Billy O'Brien said to-day, regarding Mitchell's denial of his match with McCaffrey: "The arrangements for a match were given to the press before Mitchell had been seen. Charley will spar McCaffrey as stated, provided he can get the amount of money he wants, and I think that the money will be forthcoming. I think, too, that Kilrain will meet Killen."

OWNERS OF FINE TROTTERS.

The National Breeding Association Begins Its Annual Meeting. The twelfth annual meeting of the National Breeders' Trotting Association began in parlor F of the Fifth Avenue Hotel this afternoon. President H. W. T. Mall. of this city, presided.

Among those from other cities to attend the meeting were Charles Backman, of Stony Ford, Orange Co.; S. A. Brown, of Kalamazoo Farm; W.

Orange Co.; S. A. Brown, of Kalamazoo Farm; W. H. Wilson, of Abdallah Park, Ky., and S. H. Rundle, of Danbury, Conn., one of the proprietors of Ridgewood Farm.

I. D. Packer, of Brooklyn, the Secretary, stated in his report that during the past year one member has died, seven have resigned, and twenty-one members have been added. The Association now numbers 167 members.

The Association resolved to make an effort to have the Park Commissioners set aside a road in Central Park to be devoted to the use of gentlemen in the city owning fast road horses, thereby giving them a place where they can speed their flyers and keep them in good trim.

VENDERS FORM A SYNDICATE. Anti-License Peddlers Combine to Sue the

City of Bridgeport. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] Baingerout, Conn., Dec. 12.—The greatest thing yet heard of in the way of a syndicate is the formation of an itinerant venders' combine to sue this city.

It has been the custom of City Clerk Mooney to issue licenses at $1 each to venders for the sale of their wares.

Recently a test case before Judge Kelsey was decided by proving the ordinance unconstitudecided by proving the ordinance thous.

Peddlers of hairpins, pills, sponges and soap have combined and elected John Asplund, who lately secured a license to sell a papier-mache mousetrap. President of the Peddlers Association.

Wants $40,000 for Injuries at Mud Run. (apacial to the Evening World.) BCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 12.-Cornelius Smith, attorney, to-day entered suit in the Luzerne

County Court against the Lehigh Valley Railroad on behalf of John Jennings and his son, James, of Scranton, claiming $40,000 damages for permanent injuries sustained by the latter in the Rud Run disaster.

tion.

Mr. Asplund proposed to advance the claims of the peddlers against the city.

John Stevenson will act as counsel.

ALL THE LATEST NEW

RACING AT CLIFTON

It Was Favorites' Day and the Talent Rejoiced.

Prodigal Victorious for the Elkhart Handicap.

Lafitte, Carnegie and Bellwood Carry

Off the Honors. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] RACE TRACK, CLIFTON, N. J., Dec. 12.-The good "card" attracted a large crowd to the Gabe Caldwell again held the flag, despite the fact that he has not yet quite recovered from his recent illness.

Lafitte, Carnegie and Bellwood, three betting rack to-day, among whom were many ladies.

favorites, won the first three races, greatly re-joicing the talent.

FIRST RACE.

Purse $250; seven furlongs.

Purse $250; seven furlongs.

(A. McCarthy)

(Boans)

(Kelly)

THIRD RACE. Purse $250; selling allowances; cighth. Bellwood, 105.... Nime—3, 0.03.
Liebelieu, Voiatile, Adonis, Full Bail and Wheat were the other starters.

The Race.—Bellwood, Elgin and Full Sail set off in the order named. At the lower turn Volatile came up and led to the stand, where he gave way in turn to Elgin.

At the upper turn Full Sail got in front and kept there until passing the half-mile post, where Elgin again took the lead and held it until coming on the homestretch, where Bellwood came by and won by a head from Pegasua, who was a half length before Elgin.

Betting—Bellwood straight, 3 to 1; place, 6 to 5; Pegasus for the place, 3 to 1. Mutuels paid $6, 20; place, $4, 10; Pegasus paid $9, 55.

FOURTH BACE.

Elkhart Handicap, purse $500; seven fur than Mary T.

Betting—Prodigal straight, 8 to 5; place, 3 to 5; Lancaster for the place, 2½ to 1. Mutuals paid $4.10; place, $3; Lancaster paid $7.40. PIFTH BACE.

Purse $500; six and one-half furlongs.

Won by Glory, Wahoo second and Servis third. Time—1.28.

Mutuels paid $5.95; place, $2.80; Wahoo paid $2.75.

Guttenburg Entries For To-Morn

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

12. —Here are the Guttenburg entries for Thurs day, Dec. 13.

First Race—Six and one-half furlange; selling 200. Matteawan, 119; California, 112; Biver Stat. 112; Spinette, 112; Fenelon, 110; Bloss 105; Walker, 105; Stripling, 104; Armstrong, 103; Tenacious, 102; Bela, 107; Jennie McFarland, 102; Commotica, 100; Costello, 100; Eoline, 90; Base Viol, 99; Carrie G. 18; Lizzie M., 17; Peter L., 97 lb.

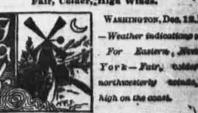

Second Race.—Seven-sightha of a mile; for beaten the seven-sightha of a mile; for beaten the seven-seven-sightha of a mile; for beaten the seven-sightha of a mile; for beaten theory of the seven-sightha of a mile; for beaten the seven-sightha of a mile; mile; the seven-sightha of a mile; mile; mile; wall, 113; Rosalie, 110; Now then, 90; Cabinet, 90 lb.

Third Race.—Three-quarters of a mile; mile; mile; 200.—John Keyes, 115; Hallenie, 112; Tom Karne, 129; Duko of Cherwell, 112; Tom Karne, 129; Duko of Cherwell, 112; Snoth, 112; Tom Karne, 120; Jenis Stories, 104; France, 105; Meledia, 107; Jenis Tom, 108; Melodrama, 107; Residences; 2050.—Jorotha Race—One mile; selling allowances; 2050.—Jorotha God. Not Guitt, 107 15.
Fourth Race—One mile; selling allowances; 4950.—
Tyrone, 106; Melodrama, 104; Rebel Boost, 108, Dago, 103; Landsser, 100; Nattos, 751b.
Fifth Race—Mile and one-eighth; selling, allowances; 200.—Harwood, 122; Playaria, 122; Elearat, 110; reanhoe, 116; Bertin, 116; Sam Berown, 116; Orlands, 116; King, B., 113; Dick Turpin, 13; Augin, 114; King, B., 113; Dick Turpin, 13; Augin, 114, Auditor, 110; Fiush, 107; Alveda, 104; Julia Miller, 104; B., 113; Contraction of the contraction of the

Entries for the New Orleans Races. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 12.—The meeting will be continued to-morrow with the following pro-

Second Race—Solling allowances; electro-cirtum the of mile,—8t. Albana, 103; Event, 103; Electrode, 100; Mile,—8t. Albana, 103; Event, 103; Electrode, 100; Mile, Hardy, 144; M. Third Race—Selling allowances; five hardens, 104; Probus, 113; Fritchett, 119; Pell Mell, 111; Red Leaf, 110; Cheeney, 105; Dohnue, 106; Benton, 106; Moseney, 106; Mile, 100; Vattell, 99; Pennseroy, 109 M. Fourth Race—Handicap; seven furlongs—Berthe W. 115; John Dal, 105; Shaart, 105; Kitty Pearlon, 100; Leman, 100; Derochment, 100; Countess, 901 N.

Weather clear, track good. Fair, Colder,"High Winds.

York-Fairy to The Weather To-Bay.

Indicated by Blakely's tele-thers 1888. 1887. DA. M......